Violence Grows In Chicago Milk Strike Territory

Chicago Confronted With Critical Shortage Of Milk
As Strike Result

HUNDREDS OF TONS OF MILK DESTROYED

Farmers Extend Efforts To Stopping Trains As Well As Trucks

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Enforced by increasing vandalism and mob violence throughout the city and countryside, the fourth day of the milk strike today found Chicago confronted with an acute shortage that became more critical by the hour.

Hundreds of tons of milk were destroyed and property damage mounted to an appalling total as farmer pickets raided and wrecked dairy plants, overturned trucks and finally robbed a Chicago-bound Soo line train in their frenzy.

Vandalism Increases
Authorities in the hotbeds of revolt in southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois admitted they were unable to cope with the mounting wave of vandalism spread by the mobs of pickets.

The blockade enforced by the Pure Milk Association, whose 18,000 producing members voted the strike, was virtually complete.

PA NEW OBSERVES

A passerby probably saved a local resident from buying a new hat Monday afternoon. While passing a local building someone from the top floor tossed a cigarette butt out of the window. The cigarette landed on the man's hat and might have caught on fire had it not been for the passerby who noticed it.

Although the first day of winter,
the 21st of December, is generally rated as the shortest day of the year, there are nine days around the winter solstice in which there is less than a minute difference between the length of the days. Peculiarly, too, the sun keeps rising later in the morning for almost a month afterwards, before the days start getting much longer. By the end of January, the difference is two minutes per day at which rate it continues until the latter part of May, until the days approach the longest of the year in June, when for almost a week, they are of the same length,
and then start getting shorter again.

It seems to Pa New that the local committee that instigated the investigation on construction of the new postoffice should push the job to completion. The net result so far seems to have been a halting of work on construction of the building on the public square. No work has been done on the structure for several weeks, and there are no indications of any arrangements for early resumption.

Pa New has received many favorable comments on a new news feature that is now found on the editorial page, "The World at a Glance." If it has escaped your notice, look it over. It is full of interest.

to have confused the minds of plenty of folks these days because

'FLOWERS' THAT BLOOM IN WINTER

Did you ever see two flowers blooming in the snow? Here are a couple, not of the horticultural variety, but human flowers. They are Robert and William Flowers, aged two and four respectively, sons of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Flowers of New Lexington, O. This photo was snapped one recent morning after the boys had slipped out of bed and out of their nightgowns, unbeknown to mama and papa and went for a race in the snow on the tricycles Santa Claus brought. Soon after the photographer caught them, the parents caught them, too, and—well, the race was over.

Rumors Circulate France United States And Soviet Consider Defense Pact

PARIS, Jan. 9.—Reports that the United States and France have under consideration mutual pacts of mutual defense with Soviet Russia persisted in usually well-informed circles today.

Some versions of the report hinted
the pacts had already been carefully studied and initiated. But these could not be confirmed.

The story was circulated in Paris
a month ago, was discounted at the time as a Japanese "feeler."
According to both the earlier and present report, the United States had made with the Soviets an agreement for mutual defense in the Pacific, both parties reserving the right to decide in the event of war whether the other has really been attacked or is the aggressor herself.

It was reported here that France is ready to tie up closer with the Soviets, the present government hesitating because of the personal opposition of Edouard Daladier, minister of war and former premier.

Edouard Herriot favors such an alliance, however, and if he should become premier again it is expected the pact would soon be signed.

It was pointed out here, however,
that the United States under ordi-

Will Rogers says:

(Special To The News)
RIVERSIDE, Cal., Jan. 9.—
Among the society notes of Rochester, Minn., I see where Dr. Cary Grayson of Washington, D. C., arrived at Mayo's road house. Admiral Grayson was President Wilson's private physician.

Scare him, Charley, but don't hurt him, for he is the best liked man in Washington; the best story teller, raises good horses, and is personal physician to Senator Carter Glass' fighting roosters.

President Wilson used his sense of humor when he made Dr. an admiral. Doc had never been on any water bigger than Culpepper Creek, and he jor-ded in horseback on a possum hunt.

Your Mayo boys get Doc to tell you about when he and Jesse Jones of the R. F. C. got into Buckingham Palace with President Wilson, and Jesse took off his shoes in the reception hall and was warming his feet
by the king's fireside.

Yours,

Will Rogers.

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 9.—Having told police a weird story of being kidnaped and held prisoner in a suburban Turtle Creek home by two men and a woman, Frances Weibely, 12 year old Schenley high school sophomore, today was to be taken

Tired, hungry and suffering from her experiences, the girl returned to her home yesterday.

Threatened With Gun
She told how she had been stopped on her way to school and forced at the point of a gun, to obey the commands of the trio, who were masked.

Frances added that she had been put out of the house where she was detained Sunday and started to walk home.

She told her family she had been tied to a bed for five days and nights and was dragged into unconsciousness for 24 hours. She said she had eaten nothing during the time she was held.

Pittsburgh To Meet Payrolls

Financial Houses And Rail-

City Funds

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 9.—Paying their tax bills of nearly $1,000,000
before they had received their statements, six local financial houses, a real estate firm and the Pennsylvania Railroad today relieved the problem of Pittsburgh's empty treasury.

As a result of the action of these concerns, the city will be able to meet payrolls for the last half of December and the first two weeks in January as well as all interest charges now due on coupon bonds.

Political Capital Is Being

PARIS, Jan. 9.—The bluntly insinuated cry of "murder" rang through Paris today soon after the death of Alexandre Sacha
great Bayonne pawnshop swindle, who succumbed to a bullet wound in the head inflicted as the French secret police caught up with him in his flight.

The surette generale's assertion Stavisky committed suicide was openly flouted in many Paris newspapers, who made as much political capital of the event as possible. Apparently with no evidence to offer, this section of the press expressed bold doubt of the suicide version in black headlines.

The police, the government, and many politicians bore the brunt of the attack. Premier Camille Chauvignat and the surette generale ignored the implied accusations.

Scout Suicide

The important newspaper Quot-iden, which ordinarily might be expected to treat the situation im-partially, carried the headline:
"Stavisky a suicide?"

Its a sub-head read:
"Stavisky received bullet in the head? From whom?"

L'Action Francaise, organ of the Royalist party, summoned the French public to a gigantic demonstration before the chamber of deputies this afternoon, and carried the

Britain Yields To U. S. Demand In Trade Barter

Any Increase In Britain's Exhausted Liquor Quota
Must Be On Bargain Basis

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Great Britain today had yielded to the demand of the American trade negotiators that any increase in Britain's exhausted liquor quota must be on a bargain basis under which the United States would receive equitable concessions.

Following prolonged negotiations with the British government, the state department announced an understanding had been reached whereby the government agreed to double Britain's original liquor quota of 607,000 gallons in return for a permanent increase of 1.3 per cent in the British quota on American pork products.

The understanding represents another victory for the "Yankee Trade-policy" which President Roosevelt recently decreed shall form the basis of America's future foreign policy.

PLAN TO END CWA PROJECTS BY MAY 1

Hopkins Counts On Private Jobs

Believes Workers Will Be Absorbed By Private Industry Next Summer

FEDERAL RELIEF IS NOT TO END, HOWEVER

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Termination of all civil works throughout the country, May 1 at the latest, was set today by Harry L. Hopkins, federal administrator. If possible, he said, it should be ended by mid-April.

Even with the projected appropriation by congress of $350,000,000 the amount needed to continue the program to that date, Hopkins said the Civil Works Administration will be "out of business by May 1, and perhaps sooner."

Demobilization actually will begin on the first of next month in some sections of the deep south.

Hopkins is counting on increased employment in the private public works activities to absorb many of the temporarily employed workers in his jurisdiction.

Others are nominally engaged in farm work which can carry them after their civil works jobs are over. Part-time workers on seasonal jobs also will be able to maintain themselves after May 1, it is hoped.

LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM LOOMS FOR CONGRESS

Farm-Home Mortgage Act, by authorizing the government to guarantee both principal and interest of farm and home mortgage bonds. This would enable the administration to give greater relief to harassed farm and home owners.

Consider Liquor License System

The house meanwhile began consideration of the "model" liquor licensing system for the District of Columbia. This measure provided for "on" and "off" sale licenses. It distinguished between sales for consumption on the premises and sales of liquor to be carried home. An effort was under way to authorize federal dispensaries but it was believed the house favored private sales.

The senate stood in recess until Wednesday. It then will act on the new federal liquor tax law, which passed the house last week. This bill would provide taxes of $5 per barrel on beer, $2 a gallon on distilled liquor and from 10 cents to $2 per gallon on wines. Efforts will be made to include provisions for "true labels" on all whiskies and to authorize special licenses for the manufacturing of blended whiskey.

Administration Test

The administration will face its first real test when the senate begins consideration of the St. Lawrence Waterway Treaty. Many Democrats will "break" with the president on this issue and oppose the treaty because of sentiment in their home states. The two New York senators—Coppeland and Wagner—will fight ratification.

Administration leaders appeared confident of ratification. This optimism was not shared by veteran senate observers, who learned most of the Democrats from Mississippi Valley states would vote against it. It appeared the opposition would be strong enough to muster better than one-third of the senate—the number required to reject the treaty.

milk supply was completely cut off. Emergency consignments of milk failed to get through the picket lines, and the supply on hand was insufficient today to care for the needs of invalids and infants dependent on the milk. All deliveries here were still suspended.

Farmers Halt Trains

Three hundred farmers massed on the Soo line right-of-way last night near Gray Lake, Ill., and stopped two trains by waving flares. In several milk plants in the southern Wisconsin sector of the Chicago milk shed were wrecked by bands of vandals during the night.

Violences flared in Chicago with vandals pushing six milk trucks into the river, burning one truck and overturning a score of others in the streets.

City council members charged that the strike was fomented as a collusive effort of the Pure Milk Association and the leading dealers to drive independent cut-rate dairies out of business.

Enunciates Principle.

Chief Justice Hughes, in delivering the majority opinion, coupled a declaration that the constitution must be read in the light of the rights of the state itself with a warning that emergencies do not create power.

Enunciating a principle which is expected to rule the court in considering "New Deal" legislation, the chief justice said:

"It is manifest from this review of our decisions that there has been a growing appreciation of public needs and of the necessity of finding ground for a rational compromise between individual rights and public welfare."

'MAIL BOXES FOR MAIL ALONE' IS ORDER OF FARLEY

New Castle Postmaster Says Postmen Will Enforce Rule Locally

Housekeepers of New Castle will probably cheer a new order issued by Postmaster General James A. Farley of Washington, calling for a rigid enforcement of the postal regulations forbidding the placing of extraneous advertising matter, statements of accounts, circulars, etc., in mail boxes. Steps will be immediately taken here. Acting Postmaster Richard A. Steen assured today, to break up the practice.

When the woman of the home goes to the mail box hereafter, she'll know that it's only mail she's taking out and not a roll of circular matter describing anything under the sun.

When a carrier finds deposited in private mail boxes, matter on which postage has not been paid, he has been directed to take it to the post office to be held for the payment of the postage by the sender, who will be notified.

The amended postal laws and regulations, Mr. Steen quoted, reads: "Every private mail box or other receptacle intended for the receipt or delivery of mail matter by any city or village letter carrier shall be used exclusively for the reception of mail matter regularly in the mails, and any mailable matter, such as statements of accounts, circulars, sales bills, or other like matter, deposited therein shall be treated in accordance with the rules governing the mails, including the proper addressing and the payment of postage at the regular rate."

VALLEE DENIES CHARGES MADE BY HIS WIFE

in New York," said Vallee emphatically.

Hymen Bushel, Vallee's lawyer in a recent series of court battles in New York with his wife, is enroute here by airplane.

Charging intimacy with Alice Faye, film actress, and two "Jane Does," Mrs. Vallee, the daughter of the Santa Monica, Cal., chief of police, brought to a climax the New York court actions by the suit here for separate maintenance.

Charges Denied "Ridiculous," was the reply of Miss Faye to the charges.

"I hope I never have to do it, but we may, however, be compelled to go into court," said Vallee with reluctance.

"It may be necessary for us to answer her. We will do this not by making charges, but by letting Mrs. Vallee's voice speak for herself."

Mrs. Vallee at present is drawing $100 weekly under the terms of a settlement signed in March of last year. Vallee, she charged, deceived her at that time concerning his income which she now claims was $350,000 yearly. His personal fortune is $3,000,000, she said in the suit filed here.

College Press Group Will Be Installed

Tau Gamma Delta To Be Installed As Chapter Of Pi Delta Epsilon

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 9.—Tau Gamma Delta, honorary journalistic fraternity at Westminster College, will be formally installed as a chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalistic fraternity, on January 29, according to word received from Professor H. Gratton Doyle, grand president.

The local fraternity petitioned the national group when in convention at Carnegie Tech., Pittsburgh, on Dec. 14, and was unanimously accepted. Ten student journalists, nine of whom are seniors, will be taken into the national group, Charles Branfield, Masury, president of the group, announced. Professor R. X. Graham, a member of the Colgate chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon and an honorary member of the local organization, will assist in the installation.

Naive Nellie says the golfers ought to be happy because they can now have real liquor at the nineteenth hole.

Fable: He went broke because people wouldn't buy bargains made by girls who were paid only 60 cents a week.

"In the first place," he said, "I sent for Mrs. Vallee's father on the evening of April 1, 1933. I had good and definite reasons for this. I called him by long distance telephone and he came east at my expense."

"When Mrs. Vallee and her father, entrained for the west, she was a very happy girl. She was getting $100 a week."

"For the past seven or eight months I had nothing to say. She, however, seemed to gain courage as she came west, and her statements to the press became more and more vitriolic."

"Then she brought two action against me in New York—one seeking to restrain me from getting a Mexican divorce, and the other seeking more money on the grounds that fraud and coercion entered into the $100 weekly agreement."

"For the first time I was forced to defend myself. She accused me of having lied to her about the money. There was no alternative but to defend myself. We filed a reply in New York. I had no personal desire to have the charges made public."

"We may, however, have to go in court. It may be necessary for us to answer her. We will do this, not by making charges, not by quoting her—we will let Mrs. Vallee's voice speak for herself."

"I am amazed at her audacity and daring."

Allen Tells Lions Of Trip To England

Pennsylvania Engineering Works Official Speaks At Luncheon Today

Lee E. Allen, secretary of the Pennsylvania Engineering Works here, who returned home from a month's business visit in the British Isles not so many days ago told the Lions club in a luncheon talk today some of his chief observations.

Mr. Allen went abroad chiefly to visit England's steel plants as a guest of the English companies.

Briefly he listed these as some of his chief observations:

That much more hand labor is used in English plants, with the average wage earner there making 22 cents per hour where our average earner would make 40 cents.

That the managing directors or plant general superintendents as we know them, are greatly honored in many ways—that they take far less dictation from their superiors than do the corresponding officers in our industries.

That trucks constitute a stiff competitor for the railroads because the railroad freight equipment is poor—even though the passenger service is much better.

That hotel accommodations are far below ours.

That food costs about the same; clothing is less.

That automobiles are comparatively scarce here. Britishers pay 40 cents a gallon for gas; an eight-cylinder Ford there costs $1,400, and others correspondingly high prices.

That bicycles are the greatest nuisance motorists have to contend with.

That while they speak our language, one has to stop occasionally to wonder if they do; the terms they use are much different.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS DR. ALLEY

One of the most interesting of the year's programs for the Woman's club was presented Monday afternoon in the Highland church when Relationship, Mrs. R. S. Tannehill, was in charge.

Mrs. E. P. Harper conducted a business period when many routine matters were discussed, after which Mrs. Tannehill introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Dr. Alden G. Alley, professor of history at Dana College, Newark, N. J., who had as his subject "How International Conditions Affect N. R. A."

Dr. Alley in opening his address said that the N. R. A. attempts to handle the anarchic conditions in American industry, attempting to end the selfish conditions existing and to regulate industry.

There are three primary purposes in the act: to end anarchy in industry to improve the unsatisfactory relations between capital and labor, to improve labor conditions, and to get better relationship between the producer and consumer.

He went on to say that the condition could not be remedied within our own nation, but reached further, extending to other countries, and he showed the close relationship that exists in commerce, employment and conditions in every nation as applied to our own.

His talk then led him into an enthusiastic plea for world peace, urging each woman present to do her little bit toward promoting this longed for condition, through support of the move for a world court and peaceful conferences between the nations.

At the close of his talk Dr. Alley answered many questions put to him by the women.

The January meeting of the club is the Red Letter program of the year, being in the hands of the literary and music departments. The program will be one of originality, arranged by the members of these departments and will be both entertaining and educational.

EDUCATED, AND NO JOB

IN 1910 there were 915,000 pupils in the high schools of the United States. In 1930 there were 4,400,000.

In 1910 there were 358,000 college and university students. In 1930 there were 1,188,000.

In 1910 the expenditure per pupil in the public schools was $18. In 1930 it was $74.

This vast expansion, especially in higher education, is sufficient explanation, without the necessity of a diagram, for the number of highly trained and specialized persons who are now without employment. It is a truism among college men that the bachelor's degree gave much more assurance of a position in 1910 than a doctor's degree does today. Yet the doctor's degree requires at least three years of additional study, and naturally a considerable expense. Frequently, by the time a doctor's degree has been secured, the student has piled up a debt to be paid off. And where the graduate is a woman, this is particularly unfortunate, since she feels that she must at least pay her debts before considering marriage. That is one of the principal drawbacks to student loan funds.

It does not connote any loss of faith in higher education to point out that education has progressed much more rapidly in these past 25 years than has opportunity. Indeed, the movement toward monopoly and merger in industry has reduced the number of executives rather than increased them. And although there is still need for more doctors, dentists, engineers, architects and so forth, at the moment the public is unable to support them.

Thus there is need for a new deal in education also—not a new deal that will deny education to those who deserve it, but a new deal that will mean the opening of opportunity.

CIVILIZATION AND WAR

Science now has taken a research glance at war, not with the ideas of finding a cure for international conflict but largely to determine if wars tend to decrease or increase as man becomes more civilized.

The results as reported to a meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science will be discouraging to pacifists. Civilization has not acted as a curb on war, it was found. This conclusion was reached from a study of 900 wars reaching as far back as 800 B. C. It was discovered that there have been during this long stretch of time, many wars to end war, but that the intensity of conflict steadily has increased. Dr. P. A. Sorokin, professor of sociology at Harvard university, and Lieutenant General N. N. Colovin told the meeting that "all the commendable hopes that war will disappear in the near future are based on nothing more than wishes and a belief in miracles."

A sharp drop in the index figures with the beginning of the nineteenth century was held responsible for the belief in the eventual disappearance of war.

"The beginning of the twentieth century has given, however," said the report, "a mortal blow to all such beliefs. The index for the first quarter of the present century soars to terrifying heights; it alone outweighs all the indices of all the wars of the preceding ten centuries taken together. Under such circumstances, it becomes difficult to continue to believe in the disappearance of war."

This conclusion, of course, is not necessarily true. It conforms, however, to the views of those who see little chance of war disappearing until man's nature, given to conflict, is changed. If what we call civilization will not effect this change, what will?

THE POSTAL DEFICIT GROWS

We may be aghast at the size of our national debt, but postal deficits are taken as a matter of course. Postmaster General Farley, in his annual report, not only maintains this tradition, but says the business of the department shows a decline for the third successive year. Naturally the depression has something to do with it, but the records show that, probably due to changed methods of advertising and merchandising, the period of constantly increasing postal receipts was approaching an end even before the business slump.

In an effort to economize, payrolls were cut last year to the extent of $80,000,000. More than one-fourth of this came from normal reductions due to deaths, retirements and resignations. This is not surprising when we consider that the post office department is the largest single employer of labor in the country, if not in the world, with 235,573 persons on the rolls. Four years ago there were over a quarter of a million. The revenues for last year were $587,631,364 and the deficit $112,374,892. Both the revenue and the deficit were smaller than in the previous year.

Mr. Farley claims that the "true deficit" amounts to about fifty millions. He reaches this conclusion by deducting the more than forty-five millions spent for shipping and commercial aviation subsidies and the fifteen millions more as the postage value of the mail service performed free for congress, the courts and the executive departments of the government. Both items might well be looked into with a view to cutting down the amounts. He hopes, in the near future, by omitting figures on the subsidies and the free postal service, to bring the postal service "into approximate balance."

"BIRTHDAY BALLS"

More than 5,000 American cities and towns including New Castle are planning to hold "birthday balls" on January 30 in honor of President Roosevelt's anniversary. Proceeds from these affairs will be used to create a permanent endowment for the Warm Springs (Ga.) Foundation for treatment of victims of infantile paralysis.

Here is a cause that deserves widespread public support. Mr. Roosevelt himself is a living testimonial to the tremendous value of the treatment offered at Warm Springs.

An endowment which would make that treatment available to sufferers all over the country would be a blessing to the entire nation. Let's hope that the drive goes over the top in 100 per cent style.

Money won't buy everything—unless you have a lot of it.

Easter wardrobes will torpedo household budgets begun on January 1.

Chile has resorted to use of the firing jury as a means of reducing the crime wave. But the fact that jury convictions first have to be obtained may weaken its effectiveness, if trial conditions there are similar to those in this country.

THINGS YOU CAN LEARN

After a while, after many years of trial and error, a man finally succeeds in learning a few things. To do this he must unlearn much that he thought he knew once upon a time. He must put himself in his proper place and try to stay there, if he is to get any happiness or certainty out of life. He learns, or he thinks he does, that:

All people are not alike; and there's no use pretending that they are.

Holding a grudge is a difficult task. You never get it entirely paid off; and when you do pay it off, you don't feel nearly as happy about it as you thought you would.

People say: "I love children." But it is not possible to love ALL children. They aren't born that way, or grown-ups have ruined them.

If you're sorry for yourself, hardly anybody else is.

If you try to tell anybody your troubles he merely waits until you are finished and then starts telling you his.

You aren't really the center of the universe, although your natural impulse is to act as though everything—the stars, the sun, the moon, the earth itself—revolves around you.

The other fellow thinks rather well of himself, too.

The feelings are wiser than the brain.

In some ways, life isn't nearly as complicated as you thought, but in other ways it is so tangled that you will never be able to understand it.

As happiness passes from you, so, too, will all your miseries.

People change, but you can do little to change them.

You will never be able to decide how much of you was born in you and how much was shaped by environment.

If you like people, they like you.

Though your friend is perfect, he has one weakness. You must not criticize him too sharply for that imperfection if you wish to keep him a your friend.

At last, every man, although he may not know it, becomes a philosopher of sorts. He picks up facts, ideas, bits of information, opinions, prejudices, fragments of truth and carries them with him to the grave. He is he, and you are you, and you must make the best of him as he must make the best of you.

"Capitalism" says an industrialist, "is not what it was ten years ago." Huh! Capitalism isn't what it was three years ago.

Louisiana, we are informed, annually supplies the country with 2,000,000 frogs. But not, we'll tell Huey Long has voted them.

A correspondent of an exchange complains that, while dazed from a fall down a flight of stairs in an office building, the man who assisted him to his feet, "unintentionally" went off with my umbrella, and he would like to have him return it. There's faith, hope and sublime charity.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

CLEVER DUST
Sir Harry Lauder is a Scot. Everyone knows that. He is said to have certain Scottish eccentricities. He himself tells the following story of the late President Coolidge:

"A visitor to the White House during the Coolidge administration said to the President that he would greatly appreciate the gift of a cigar, not for himself, but for a friend who had the eccentricity of collecting cigar bands from famous smokers all over the world. President Coolidge thought the matter over for a few seconds, then reached for a box of cigars. Taking one out, he carefully removed the band, replaced the cigar in the box and handed the band to the visitor."

Perhaps the canny Scot believed he was starting a backfire.

DON'T OBEY THAT INSTINCT
Your disposition may be naturally mean and it may require great effort on your part to prevent its manifesting itself at inopportune times.

But you would be well repaid if you tried to master it.

Practically everyone has some disagreeable traits.

The well-poised, sympathetic and helpful persons you know have their faults.

Perhaps their mean streaks are not so deep-rooted as yours.

But they are masters of themselves.

And isn't there plenty of evidence that you yourself are not so well under control?

Every once in a while you permit meanness to come to the surface.

Altogether too often for your own good, you "blow up" as you say.

You might keep the public from knowing just how mean you can be if you would control yourself when you are with those whom you think unable to retaliate in kind, or with those who have too much self-respect to do so.

Self-mastery is necessary if the respect of friends and the love of relatives is desired.

Too often, sudden outbursts of temper leave both sides cold.

"No—but I did everything he asked me to. Let him work only four hours a day and eat with the family. He got to complainin' of the dull evenin's so I let him and my daughter have the car and go to town to the movies every night, and footed the bill."

"That ought to satisfy him."

"Yep—but it didn't. He complained of his room fronting on the barnyard, so I got my son to trade rooms with him. Then he seemed more settled for awhile."

"I notice you've cut off your whiskers, Timothy."

"Yep—that's another of my hired man's ideas."

"How's that?"

"He complained that they tickled him every time I kissed him good night and put him to bed."

It's also true you can lead some men to booze but you can't make them drink—of course not many.

Harold Hough, circulation manager of the Fort Worth "Tex." Star-Telegram, recently received an unusual assignment from Amor G. Carter, publisher and vice president of the Southwestern Exposition and Fair Stock Show.

Hough was requested to go to Mexico and obtain some real Spanish bulls and toreros to stage a bloodless bullfight at the stock show next spring in Fort Worth. In company with Bob Calen, his cowboy friend, known for his appearances at Madison Square Garden, Hough went into the interior of Mexico and corralled a bunch of Spanish bulls and bull fighters.

But he discovered he was not allowed to bring the bulls across the border. An old Spanish custom or legal question is involved.

Hough and Calen, however, got back. An old American custom of theirs.

The World At A Glance

Financing Affects Grandchildren
Interest—a Billion a Year
Borrowing Not Seen DifficultBy LESLIE EICHEL,
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—New financing of the government is a problem that affects our grandchildren. It will not be difficult for the federal government to raise, through bond issues, the huge sums it plans to raise for the New Deal recovery plans. The government simply will absorb the wealth of the nation and put it to what it believes to be the best uses of the people.

That is the view of financial New York. But once the huge sums required are raised, carrying charges will be enormous. They will remain enormous for years to come. If the New Deal brings recovery, then the government will have increased income—greatly increased income—and the burden will be less. Even then, however, the burden will remain.

Perhaps, in order to increase government returns, some "painless" form of taxation will be found in the meantime.

Of course the man with moderate means will begin to demand more and more the confiscation of great wealth—and that issue will be joined before many months.

THE DEBT
Just how large will the debt of the United States be at the end of the next fiscal year—June 30, 1935? The president himself predicts $31,864,000,000. That would be the peak that the federal debt of the United States ever has reached.

The previous peak was on Aug. 31, 1919—$26,556,016,646.

Carrying charges of the peak debt will be approximately a billion a year.

Devaluation of the dollar will do no good. It would make carrying charges easier to bear—but the debt would rise proportionately, or more, for whatever the government would buy would cost more. If the government merely were a judicial body it could gain, but this government is involved in all sorts of business, in construction, in utilities, in railroads, in banks.

This government definitely has begun a process of federalization from which there seems to be no turning. It has become business.

BORROWINGS
Yes, Wall Street says, the federal government can put over six billions in new borrowings and four billions of refinancing—but then it can't compel the banks to give undue credit also to private undertakings. Banks will be forced to keep their funds liquid to absorb government bond issues.

What, then, will be the result? The government will have to lend directly to private enterprises.

Private enterprises, however, fear that they believe that the government will step into the management.

But, the government points out, if such be the case, isn't that better than having unscrupulous bankers step into the management, as in some cases in the past?

The government would not demand "take-offs" to the detriment of business. It would see that earnings were plowed into the business for the good of the property—and the stockholders.

TAXING BONDS
If the government is to borrow so heavily, it cannot tax government securities, the New York financial district warns.

Capital would flee.

Washington, however, has a different idea on capital fleeing. The United States remains the country of the soundest wealth. Its resources are many times those of any other country—except, possibly, Russia. And it will take half a century before Russia can develop her resources sufficiently to be translated into money.

Capital remains in the long run, even under difficult circumstances.

Police Shoot First, Talk Afterwards In Stalking Gangsters

Chicago Police And Federal Authorities Doing Everything To Clean Up Crime

Jack Klutas Latest Chicago Gunman To Feel Wrath Of Pals Of Slain Officers

By SENATOR LOUIS MURPHY Written Expressly For International News Service

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The best anti-kidnap statute is being written in Chicago in the smoke from officer's guns spelling out the new slogan "bring 'em in dead."

The current newspapers tell the story of the end of "Handsome Jack" Klutas, members of a midwest band of kidnapers. The police brought him in dead. They riddled him with bullets when he sought to escape them.

Hunted Long While

Klutas was wanted for various crimes for several years. But not until a few months ago did the federal and local police agencies dedicate themselves to a "get Klutas" campaign.

They got him and they will get every other criminal they go after—get them alive or get them dead.

In jail now in Chicago are three other members of the kidnaping gang Klutas trained with. They are Frank Souder, murderer of the four policemen, Gale Swolley and "Babe" Jones. Nolan another of the gang was killed a few months ago, probably by one of his own mob. At least two others are at large—Eddie Wagner and Eddie Larue. It is only a question of time when they will be brought in, probably with their toes turned up, for both are killers.

Bullets May Fly

It may be that a bullet from the gun of a fellow gangster will reach them before a police bullet finds its mark, for there is the striking circumstance that when the hunt for a mobster gets "hot" his associates want him elsewhere for their own protection. They may either "tip him off" to the police or themselves kill him if he persists in staying around.

Killing of mobsters by their associates is more frequent than killing by police. There is the case of the ex-South Dakota sheriff, Miller whose body was picked up on a roadside near Detroit several weeks ago. Federal agents had him trapped in Chicago, just as Klutas was trapped. But two untoward circumstances saved Miller that day: if he had walked down a hotel hallway, as was to be expected, and not run, and had not two bystanders unwittingly crossed the line of fire, he would have been mowed down by bullets from a machine gun in the hands of the nation's best machine gunner—an Illinois highway policeman.

Quick On Draw

Miller possibly was the worse killer in the country. He could draw a gun and shoot in the flash of an eye.

There is the note of ruthlessness in what is written here and sentimental souls will condemn the implied approval of it. I surmise that such persons would heat water to take the chill off before placing rats in to drown, and would propose trying to nurse a mad wolf back to health.

These sentimentalists were better concerning themselves with the widows and orphans of Chicago police officers shot to death recently, in performance of duty by the Indiana mob.

Fury Of Rage

Gang ridden, racket ridden Chicago has turned in a fury of rage against the defamers of its fair name and the destroyers of its peace.

My references are to Chicago and the middle west because there is a member of the senate sub-committee I made private investigation of conditions. There civic and police officials, judges, leaders in the war against vice, federal investigators and labor leaders told the story of a city terrorized by the underworld whose dirty money bought protection in highest places.

The forest of that, I believe, is ended.

The senate committee will be offering several bills to strengthen the law against kidnaping and to cover rackets in interstate commerce and wage "kick-backs" on government work.

A list of emergency calls placed beside the telephone is handy in case of need of doctor, police or fire departments, garage, taxi and ambulance.

American women are becoming "voice conscious", in the opinion of Gene Lockhart, writer, humorist, lecturer, monologist, who now is playing an important role in the Theater Guild's production of Eugene O'Neill's first comedy, "Ah Wilderness." "I don't know whether the radio is directly responsible for this, or it is because the U. S. A. is growing up," Lockhart admits. "The talking picture and the radio, however, I believe, have been instrumental in making the United States sound conscious. Everyone is learning to listen, and in listening becoming critical."

Observations In 7th Ward

On the highway between Chicago and Elgin, Illinois last week, J. O. Dickson, of Edenburg came upon what seemed to be a wreck, with a crowd of people and a number of cars nearby. Coming closer it was seen that it was one of those Illinois milk spilling parties that the easterners have heard so much about. Farmers were methodically tipping over can after can of milk that had been carried on the truck. Hundreds of gallons were confiscated.

The new engine operating from the New Castle Junction on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad to Chicago, is attracting about as much attention and praise as its somewhat smaller brother engine, the Lord Baltimore. According to unofficial talk among local railroadmen, there will be 20 of these engines before very long.

"It's a permanent separation," the white-haired playboy said. "We have been on the verge of a split-up several times in the last month."

Close friends of the couple said the marital venture is "all washed up" although Manville wouldn't confirm that.

His wife, he said, has gone into seclusion in the country.

FEDERAL COURTS ARE QUITE BUSY

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Criminal proceedings against 1,123 violators of the revenue laws were pending at the end of the 1933 fiscal year, the Internal Revenue bureau disclosed in its annual report today.

The year was one of great activity in the drive against tax evaders. June 30, 1932-1933 cases were pending, while 1,444 new cases were prepared during the following year, making a total of 2,377 under consideration during the period.

The penal division of the bureau disposed of 1,254 actions in the twelve months, the next increase being 190.

In the civil division, where suits are prepared which do not involve criminal action, 4,116 cases were pending July 1, 1932 and 4,219 cases a year later. Pending in federal districts courts were 6,909 cases July 1, 1933 compared with 2,009 a year earlier. At the end of last year 25 tax cases were in the Supreme court, an increase of four during the year.

Cost Is Reduced

The cost of collection of internal revenue was reduced during the year to $1.85 on the $100 compared with $2.17 in the 1932 fiscal year. Total internal revenue collections were $1,619,839,224 in 1933, an increase of $62,110,181 over the year before.

Income taxes made up $746,791,404 of the total collection, a loss of $309,965,293. Miscellaneous internal revenue totaled $873,047,820, an increase of $372,075,475. Tobacco headed the miscellaneous collections with $402,739,059, an increase of $4,160,440. Beer taxes for the March-June period amounted to $35,230,441.

Clearfield County Negro Sentenced To Prison For Attack On White Girl

(International News Service)

CLEARFIELD, Pa., Jan. 9.—Possible development of untoward incidents in the case of Leonard Burhanon, Negro youth sentenced for alleged attempted attack on a white girl, worried county authorities today as feeling was reported running high among the girl's friends.

A riotous outbreak was said to have been narrowly avoided in the corridor of the county courthouse as Burhanon, who police said confessed to an attempted assault on Mary Chappel last Thursday, was being rushed to his cell by the sheriff. A brother of Miss Chappel was said to have tried to turn the crowd on the Negro as he passed through the hall, but a nearby officer quieted him.

Burhanon was ordered imprisoned in Western Penitentiary for from 2½ to five years.

Daring Jewelry Robbers Hunted Near Pittsburgh

Trio Gets $20,000 In Gems From Store Window; Escape

LICENSE PLATES ON CAR STOLEN

Western Pennsylvania And Eastern Ohio Area Being Combed By Police

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Jan. 9.—With only the numbers of stolen license plates and a description of the getaway car to guide them, police of Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia today were seeking a trio of bandits who held a crowd of pedestrians at bay while they looted a downtown jewelry store window of $20,000.

The license plates were stolen Saturday night from an automobile owned by J. G. Stoller, Akron, O., parked in front of Stoller's home.

Police said two of the men, both armed, stepped from an automobile as it came to a stop in front of the William J. Kappel company. One of the men hurled a hammer through the show window.

Pedestrians Threatened Holding a score of pedestrians at bay, the bandits removed a tray of expensive gems from the showcase along with a selection of watches and other articles.

Threatening R. R. Ripper, manager of the store, and William Kappel, Jr., son of the president of the concern, who rushed to the door of the store, with death, the pair leaped into the waiting automobile and fled.

The trio is believed to have participated in a similar robbery in Ohio several weeks ago, city detective Walter Monahan, ace sleuth, declared today following his being placed in charge of the investigation.

Receiver Ready To File His Account

R. C. McKinley Asks Permission Of Court To Sell Remaining Euwer Accounts

In the case of Lee R. Gordon against the J. N. Euwer company, R. C. McKinley, receiver, asked court today to permit him to sell the remaining accounts and leases in his hands at private or public sale in order that he may wind up the affairs of the company and file his final account.

The petition sets for that there came into the hands of the receiver accounts and leases of a face value of $24,438, or an appraised value.

by appraisers appointed by the court, of $13,624.79.

The receiver has collected on the leases approximately $10,000, leaving a face value of uncollected accounts of about $15,000. All of the property has been disposed of, except an office safe.

Receiver McKinley says that he is ready to file his final account and believes that it would be to the interest of the creditors to sell the balance of the private accounts receivable. An order permitting such a sale was made.

At a meeting of the Health Education committee of the Y. W. C. A. with Miss Mary Bigley, North Mill street, Monday afternoon, it was decided to continue the gym class for girls of the pottery on every Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock, with the Y's gym instructor, Miss Margaret Fischer, in charge. Roller skating and bowling will be enjoyed by the girls.

This class, along with a number of others, were organized a number of weeks ago under the supervision of Mrs. Cora Humble Rigby, a teacher furnished by a federal government fund. When Mrs. Rigby was no longer available for the work, the classes were dropped. The Y. W. C. A. Health Education committee has now decided to continue the class for pottery girls under its own supervision.

It was reported that the enrollment in the regular Thursday night gym class (meets at 7:30 o'clock) is very good. The new term gets underway January 11. Miss Fischer is in charge. Regular gymnastics are taught.

Steel Companies Continue Fight

Battle Administration Over Right To Settle Dispute With Organized Labor

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—"Big Steel", and eight other Pennsylvania companies operating "captive" coal mines continued their battle with the administration today, challenging the right of President Roosevelt to settle their dispute with organized labor.

The operators speaking through Nathan L. Miller, former governor of New York, counsel for the U. S. Steel Corporation hold that the agreement made with President Roosevelt on October 30 "does not compel them to make union contracts," as demanded by the United Mine Workers of America. Miller also holds the agreement does not give the National Labor Board authority to arbitrate their refusal to make union contracts.

The dispute hinges on whether the operators should recognize John L. Lewis and Philip Murray, president and vice president of the United Mine Workers of America, respectively, as individual representatives of the miners to represent them in "collective bargaining," under the Bituminous Industry Code, or to recognize them as officials of the union representing their employees.

Miss Jean Glenn, of Richelieu avenue, society editor of The News, who underwent a serious operation in the Jameson Memorial hospital Tuesday, is getting along nicely. Her condition was reported as good at the hospital today.

Mrs. Edna May Cameron's Suit Against Pennsylvania Company On Trial

CRASH OCCURRED IN BLINDING SNOWSTORM

The case of John W. Cameron and Edna May Cameron, his wife, against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, in which Mrs. Cameron is asking for $25,000 damages and Mr. Cameron for $1000, was called for trial in county court this forenoon before Judge R. L. Hildebrand.

The case dates back to an accident on Cherry street railroad crossing in the seventh ward, on the night of November 18, 1930, shortly after midnight. Mrs. Cameron had gone in an automobile with Edward Bowers, a lady friend of Mr. Bowers, to visit some friends in this city.

About midnight Mrs. Cameron wanted to go home, and Mr. Bowers started to take her, leaving his lady friend at the home where they were visiting, and intending to return for her.

When Mr. Bowers and Mrs. Cameron reached the Pennsylvania tracks on Cherry street, it was in a blinding snowstorm. As Mr. Bowers could only see a short distance ahead, he says he stopped at the Pennsylvania tracks to take a look. He saw that the gates were up and there were apparently no trains in sight.

He then drove across the two main tracks. A short distance further on there was a switch, and on this switch and across the street there was a freight car. On account of the snow Mr. Bowers did not see the freight car until he was about five feet away and his car crashed into it.

Mrs. Cameron was thrown forward. Her knee cap was broken, the tibia of one leg was broken, and she was injured about the head and face. She was in the hospital from November 28 to December 17 and was confined to bed in her home from the latter date to January 31, 1931. She claims to have been permanently injured.

It is alleged by Bowers that there was no light or warning sign on the freight car which he struck. After the jury was selected it was taken to see the crossing where the accident occurred.

Princess Mdivani Planning To Sail For Orient, Report

Whether Or Not Her Husband Prince Alexis Will Be On Board Is Not Known

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—With or without her Georgian prince Alexis Mdivani, the lovely young and blonde princess Mdivani, nee Barbara Hutton the American $40,000, 000 "five and ten" heiress, will sail from San Francisco Thursday for the Orient aboard the Japanese N. Y. K. liner Hatsuta Maru.

At least that was the statement issued today in the name of the Princess by Mme. Nancy Allard, her secretary and former tutor.

"The princess," said Mme. Allard "positively will be on the Tatsuta Maru when it sails from here. She has her plans all made and her cabin engaged and she has no intention of changing either. She believes the prince will arrive in San Francisco in time to sail with her, but whether he does or not she will be aboard."

A suggestion that the princess' determination to go with or without the prince indicates a bit of a rift in their marital harmony brought a snappy "nothing of the kind" from Mme. Allard.

Welsh Authoress Throws Self Under Wheels Of Train, Leaves Suicide Note

(International News Service) CAERPHILLY, Wales, Jan. 9.—A novel reason for suicide was discovered today at the inquest into the death of Dorothy Edwards, 31-year old Welsh authoress, who threw herself under the wheels of a railway train because she never was able to love anyone.

The brilliant writer left a note which read: "I am killing myself because I have never sincerely loved any human being in all my life. I have accepted kindness, friendship and even love without gratitude, and have given nothing in return."

Gather Many Facts In Pre-School Survey

Every child of pre-school age in New Castle will be listed when the present pre-school survey is completed. Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of school predicted today that twenty five men and women are busy each day surveying the city and getting a factual record of every youngster in the city.

The survey includes the name, sex, height and weight of the child, date of birth, place of birth, the physician or midwife attending the mother, name of father, address, native or foreign born, name and nationality of mother, economic status of parents, whether the father is regularly employed and where name of the family physician and when the child was ready to enter school.

The known physical defects of the children are listed and a record made of whether or not the child has been vaccinated and immunized against diphtheria.

Several other surveys have been recommended by Dr. Green. One is a survey of the lighting facilities of the schools, another a survey of atypical children, or children who are not normal, another a course in dramatic art, and still another a survey of the recreational facilities of the city.

Extortionist Is Sentenced

Five To Fifteen Year Sentence For Philadelphia Man

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—Ten minutes of a jury's time today had placed the would be extortioner of Lessing L. Rosenwald's prominent Philadelphia business man and philanthropist behind the prison walls of Eastern penitentiary for the next five to fifteen years.

The prisoner, a penniless father of two small children, is William F. Schultz. He pleaded guilty to the charge of writing three letters threatening Rosenwald, chairman of the board of Seas, Roebuck and Co. with death unless $30,000 was paid. He insisted he meant no harm and said debts arising from his milk business and funds needed to support his wife and children impelled him to write the notes.

Mr. Bradford paid the bill for the furniture all with the exception of $400, and as the Keystone Company was pressing this claim, he gave them a bailment lease on the furniture, which the company later took on a writ of replevin.

Mr. Bradford's story of the alleged gift of the furniture differs from that of Mrs. Bradford, in that he denies that he made a gift of the furniture to Mrs. Bradford.

Bradford Case Is In Hands Of Jury

Conflict In Testimony As To Who Was Owner Of Furniture Replevined

The case of Mary E. Bradford against R. Roy Bradford, and the Keystone Furniture Company, which has been on trial before Judge James A. Chambers, went to the jury about noon today. Witnesses for the defense were heard on Monday afternoon and this forenoon.

The testimony developed that Mr. and Mrs. Bradford, with a representative of the Keystone Company, had gone to Jamestown, N. Y., where they had purchased furniture to the amount of about $9,000 with which to furnish the Bradford home on Leasure avenue.

Mrs. Bradford's contention was that when the home was built the title had been placed in Mr. Bradford's name. He was also engaged in the airplane business, and when they had discussed their financial matters together, Mr. Bradford had given her the furniture.

Mr. Bradford paid the bill for the furniture all with the exception of $400, and as the Keystone Company was pressing this claim, he gave them a bailment lease on the furniture, which the company later took on a writ of replevin.

Defendant Wins In Damage Case

Jury Returns Verdict In Favor Of C. F. Morrow In Suit By W. J. Walker

The jury in the case of W. J. Walker against Charles F. Morrow, which was tried before Judge R. L. Hildebrand, this afternoon brought in a verdict in favor of the defendant. This means that the defendant does not have to pay anything.

The case was one in which Walker was struck by an automobile driven by Clyde H. McKim, and belonging to Morrow. It was claimed by McKim that the car had been loaned to McKim, and that he was not on Morrow's business, when the accident occurred. McKim said that he had seen Walker on the sidewalk ahead and believed Walker saw him, but about the time that McKim reached Walker the latter suddenly started across the street in front of his car, and was struck. McKim denied any carelessness.

Relief System Set Up May Be Changed Soon

Claimed That It Is Proving Very Costly To Administer The Funds

COUNTIES MAY BE GIVEN MORE POWER

By G. EVERETT DOYING
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 9.—The "honeymoon" of the emergency relief administration in Pennsylvania is heading into rough seas with some members of the board preparing to demand a definite right-about-face to prepare for the future, International News Service learned today.

At least two members of the five-man board expect to insist that Gov. Gifford Pinchot call a special meeting of the board as soon as he returns from his New York sickbed. The avowed purpose of the meeting is to lay concrete plans for a permanent future relief system.

Behind this purpose, however, lies an ever-increasing dissatisfaction with the present highly-organized state administrative setup which, it is claimed, has grown into a compactly centralized arm of state government the commonwealth eventually may be unable to support.

A proposal that the present system be junked entirely and a completely decentralized scheme under which each county would operate independently is to be suggested at the meeting, it was learned. The state would appear in this system only as the financial sponsor and there only up to a limit made possible without added taxation.

The plan would retain a per-tory state board, possibly of the executive and fiscal officers of the state, to allocate state funds.

Crystallization of this attitude for a "showdown meeting" is traceable to the recent report of relief administration made by Eric H. Biddle, executive director of the board. In his summation of work done, Biddle recommended the adoption by 1935 of a permanent relief system with payments "in cash, and cash only."

The proposal evoked immediate opposition. State Treasurer Charles A. Waters, a member of the board, issued a statement declaring the report was Biddle's individual opinion and that the board has no connection with drafting the report.

More directly responsible for demands for a special meeting is the belief that recovery has speeded up sufficiently so that by the end of this winter relief will no longer be the spontaneous and vital emergency it has been during the depression.

AROUND CITY HALL

It may not be long until wanderers will become the guests of Uncle Sam at one of his concentration camps and the men who have been dealt a blow by adversity and are found in this section will be sent to a camp in Allegheny county. So far the officials have received no word as to when they are to commence sending the unfortunates to the camp. According to police officials here approximately 15 wanderers are given lodging each night at the city police station. They come from all parts of the United States and after spending a night in the bunhouse, in the city building, they are instructed to keep moving.

Several years ago the city council purchased an aerial photograph of the city. The photograph is about six feet tall and as many feet wide. It shows every street, house and lot in the city. According to City Engineer Harry Hoskins real estate men who desired pictures of certain sections of the city have purchased such sections from the Cleveland firm which made the photograph. He estimates the firm has sold $100 worth of the photographs, the original of which is at the city engineer's office.

It looks very much as though the bootleggers have cause to worry about what will happen with them in case they are found with liquor as John Haven, police chief yesterday charged "Ben Wilson" Mahoning avenue, an alleged bootlegger with having liquor in his possession contrary to the regulation of the State Liquor Control board.

Seldom does one read in city police reports of an accident in which a Pennsylvania Power company automobile figures. One of the reasons for this is that the company advocates safety first and employees follow the idea. Whenever snow falls or thoroughfares become icy cars are taken to garages and chains attached. It is said that during the past two snowstorms 500 cross chains were worn out but replaced as soon as they broke.

News from Marietta, O., that search is under way there for Neal G. Bowman, notorious desperado and fugitive from the Lima, O., state hospital who kidnapped then freed Sheriff H. L. Partee, of Vinton county no doubt will spur local police to be on their guard here to try and effect his capture should he come this way. Several days ago State police sent a teletype message to New Castle asking that a close watch be kept for Bowman whom had been reported to have been seen in Pennsylvania. He escaped Christmas day when he overcame a guard and other patients by menacing them with a revolver.

During Register and Recorder William R. Hanan's first week in office, 45 instruments of all kinds were recorded, including 23 deeds and 11 mortgages. The number of deeds was six in excess of the previous week, while there were four more mortgages recorded. The mortgages totalled $21,915. Two were to the Home Owners' Loan Corporation for $6,639 and $1,223, respectively. Four were to building and loans for a total of $6,140; two were to individuals for $1,950, and two were to banks for $2,970.

Commissions as justices of the peace have been recorded at the register and recorder's office for B. T. Braby of Wampum and George Matthews of South New Castle Borough.

County commissioners, sitting as a board of appeals, heard complaints from taxpayers of Wampum, New Wilmington, South New Castle borough and Volant yesterday. On Wednesday Big Beaver, Hickory, Little Beaver and Mahoning townships will be heard. So far the board has had very few complaints on assessments. As a rule valuations have been placed somewhat lower than those made at the last triennial assessment. The main thing with which the commissioners are concerned is to see that assessments have been made uniform.

Judge R. L. Hildebrand has set Wednesday, Jan. 24, as a time for holding divorce court. The last day upon which petitions can be filed in order to be heard at this session is January 13. Testimony is taken before Judges Hildebrand and Chambers in all divorce cases. In a few days thereafter decrees are handed down, either granting or refusing the petitions. Very few divorce applications are refused.

Another meeting of county commissioners of Lawrence, Mercer, Venango and Butler counties, on the proposed workhouse proposition will be held in Butler within a short time. A meeting had been called at the Nixon Hotel in Butler for January 11, but according to word received here by the county commissioners, the meeting has been postponed.

A meeting was held at The Castleton hotel in this city recently at which preliminary discussions were held. Nothing in the way of the probable cost of a workhouse, or where it is to be located has yet been discussed. The subject is one which has been agitated here for many years on account of the crowded condition of the Allegheny county workhouse, to which prisoners are sent from the four counties. The Lawrence county commissioners have not yet indicated their attitude on the subject.

Judge R. L. Hildebrand handed down an order of court today discontinuing a session of common pleas court which was scheduled to convene on February 19. The jury commissioners are to be notified to refrain from drawing a jury for that date. Judge Hildebrand gave as a reason for discontinuing the session the fact that there does not appear to be a sufficient number of cases on the docket to justify it. This would indicate that the common pleas court docket is being pretty well cleaned up, or will be by the time the cases on the list for this week and next are heard.

County Treasurer William O. Pitts draws attention to the fact that all dog owners are expected to secure licenses for their dogs by the 15th of this month. The law requires that all dogs six months old or over must be licensed. After January 15th the owner of a dog who has failed to secure a license is subject to a fine.

"I tell you the CWA is proving a big benefit to the boroughs of the county," said County Commissioner Elmer Connors this morning. "In every borough there are streets which have been neglected, and now they are being put in first-class shape. I came past Chewton this morning and noticed 40 men working on the streets. In Wampum there was another big gang. The Wampum men are putting in a cinder walk on one street where it was badly needed."

Under the new law jury commissioners are only allowed pay for 65 days in any one year for their work in filling the jury wheel and in drawing jurors.

Term "Fifth" Is Explained For Liquor Buyers

Term Becoming More Widely used In Connection With Liquor Sales

What is a Fifth? With the return of legal drinking in the United States, this question has arisen by customers at the State Liquor Store when they are informed that McCumpha's extra special whiskey sells at $3.50 per Fifth. The Fifth is sometimes known as a Scotch quart, but it is not a quart, neither is it a pint. It is a bottle containing 25 3-5 ounces of liquor and is one fifth of an American gallon. An American gallon contains 128 ounces and apparently the fifth was the result of some smart manufacturer who wanted to give his customers a bottle that looked like a quart but wasn't.

A Canadian or Imperial quart contains 40 ounces of liquor and a Canadian or Imperial gallon contains 160 ounces. The Fifth which is now being served is coming more and more into favor and a number of the standard American ryes that were always bottled in pints and quarts in the pre-Prohibition days are now being sold in Fifths. Hence, when you buy a Fifth, you are buying a fifth of an American gallon, or 25 3-5 ounces. There are a few brands that contain 26 ounces and now and then one is found that contains 24 1-2 ounces. These are not genuine fifths.

STATE BONUS BLANKS TO BE READY NEXT MONTH

To Float Bonds As Need Requires

Adjutant General David J. Davis In Charge Of Bonus Program

PROBABLY 400,000 VETERANS ELIGIBLE

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Jan. 9.—Application blanks for the $30,000,000 soldiers bonus program will be ready on their way to Pennsylvania ex-service men about the first of next month, Adjutant General David J. Davis said today.

The adjutant general, sole administrator of the bonus under the acts passed by the legislature in the past special session after the people voted a constitutional amendment for the bond issue, plans to recommend that the bonds be floated in at least five issues of no more than $10,000,000 each.

The first checks will be paid out as soon as the state floats the first part of the bond issue, expected soon after March 1.

Completing Arrangements
General Davis has nearly completed all the preliminary arrangements setting up an administrative force to divide the bonus money. The application blanks are being printed and arrangements have been made to lease quarters here.

Branch headquarters are to be set up in about 50 communities in the state where veterans will be able to obtain information regarding procedure for filing applications.

Distribution of the application forms will be made through various veteran organizations in the state as well as from the local administration offices. Inquiries already are being received here at the rate of more than 100 a day. These are being filed pending the arrival of the blanks when one will be mailed to each letter writer.

General Davis expects the majority of the 400,000 veterans eligible for a bonus to have their checks within nine months after the first bonus is paid. Applications probably will be filed in for years, he said, but the rush is expected to be over by next Christmas.

Shape Plans For President's Ball

Civic Committee Of 30 Meets With Braham; Enthusiasm Grows

Under the leadership of their general chairman, Attorney W. Walter Braham, members of the general committee for what promises to be New Castle's most colorful dance—the President's national ball of January 30th—met last night and outlined definite steps for the local celebration in honor of the 52nd birthday of President Roosevelt.

The affair will be held at the Cathedral.

Committee Organized

Almost a dozen civic organizations had spokesmen present for the Y. M. C. A. meeting, and the committee of 30 acted swiftly to give this city the kind of a celebration which other cities throughout the nation will hold that night in honor of the nation's chief executive and as a benefit for the Warm Springs Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in Georgia.

General Chairman Braham named the Phalanx fraternity, chief sponsoring organization for the dance, to handle the orchestra selections and the Quota and Junior Business and Professional Women's club to arrange for patrons and patronesses. Don C. McGraw, dance treasurer and ticket chairman, received his first supply of stubs. Contact will be made with every civic organization in an attempt to enlist their aid for the tickets.

Termed the "greatest birthday party in American history by national headquarters of the dance, the event plans to carry a significance few such affairs have done. The national ball committee includes leading men from many walks of life.

Represented at the Y meeting last night were the Kiwanis, Lions, Wolves, Quota, Polish Falcons, Business and Professional Women's and the Junior B. & P. W. clubs, and the Knights of Columbus, Legion of Honor and the Phalanx fraternity. Others will participate.

Marriage Licenses May Indicate That Times Are Better

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Jan. 9.—If Allegheny county's marriage licenses are any criterion or better times prosperity must be here!

Last year, for the first time since 1929, marriage licenses issued exceeded the number for the preceding year.

During 1933, 7,420 licenses were issued, an increase of 1,387 over 1932, according to an announcement by the marriage license bureau. However, like business, marriage licenses are still below 1929 levels. In that year 10,294 licenses were granted. One woman past 80 and 17 men and four women over 70 took out licenses.

Ministers Hear Dr. Alley Monday

Session Of Ministerial Association Is Held At First Presbyterian Church

The meeting of the ministerial association at the First Presbyterian church Monday morning was largely attended. The speaker who was announced, Dr. Herbert Thompson, was unavoidably prevented from being present. His place was taken by Dr. Alden G. Alley, professor of sociology in Adrian College of Newark, N. J.

He spoke of "Christian Principles in International Relations." He mentioned three principles which must be inculcated in the lives of nations before we may hope for lasting peace. The first is the principle which is emphasized in the parable of the Good Samaritan, that of sacrificing self for the sake of others. The second is that of avoiding the fault of the Pharisees, the fault forever justifies self and blames others. The third is the noble quality of charity, which thinks no evil. The speaker asserted that the nations can end war immediately but he was doubtful that they would do so. If they would do so they must establish the institutions of peace, namely, a world legislature, a world court, and a world police force.

What Price 'Stuff'? A Jail Trip, Maybe!

Negro, First Liquor Control Violator, Pleads; Held For Court

His bottles didn't carry the stamps—the new state liquor stamps.

That, in brief, tells why Ben Wilson, Mahoning Ave. negro, was in the county jail today with the distinction—if distinction it is—of being the first New Castleite to be held for court on a charge of violating Pennsylvania's new Liquor Control Act of 1933, passed by the legislature on November 29th when it set up the new plan of dispensing beverages.

Arrested Monday by city police, Wilson was taken before Alderman Wallace J. Ewing and he pleaded guilty to the charge. Ewing held him for the March court.

Reorganization Plan At Issue

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The Supreme Court late Monday set aside decrees of lower courts approving a reorganization plan for the National Radiator Corp.

The approval of the sale of assets of the corporation to the reorganization committee was attacked in four suits by the first National Bank of Cincinnati, International Heater Co. and others.

Under the reorganizations plan the committee took over the assets for $2,550,000 opponents of the reorganization, who were creditors, contended that the reorganization plan was unfair to creditors.

Weekly Health Talk

"Pennsylvania has the enviable record of not a single reported case of small pox during 1933. No more eloquent statement of the scientific conquest of disease can be made than this one. Yet, even rather than have their children vaccinated," states Dr. Theodore B. Appel, state secretary of health.

"As far back as 1718 inoculation against small pox was introduced into Europe. This was practiced until Dr. Edward Jenner in 1796 performed the first vaccination and conclusively proved that a person can be immunized against smallpox artificially by being given an attenuated form of the disease.

"The result of Jenner's discovery was to curb the ravages of this great plague which up to that time was continuously epidemic both in Europe and America. Furthermore, it can be said truthfully that in every jurisdiction where vaccination is compulsory, small pox has practically disappeared except for the imported cases. And conversely, where vaccination is not rigidly enforced smallpox continues to have a noticeable incidence.

"Pennsylvania has been particularly fortunate in its vaccination law. No child can enter school without proof of a successful vaccination except under special tem-

Widows Of Vets May Lose Bonus

Constitutionality Of Claims Must Be Passed On First By Courts

DECISION LEFT TO SUPREME COURT

Under the provisions of the amended Veterans' Bonus Act which was signed by Governor Pinchot a few days ago, there is some question whether surviving widows of veterans will be entitled to the bonus provided.

Originally the bill provided for the payment of $200 to the surviving widow, minor children or parent of a deceased ex-service man. A question as to the constitutionality of such a provision was raised and the bill was recalled from the governor's desk for amendment.

The amended section is made provisional upon the interpretation of the courts as to whether such a grant is constitutional. The clause pertaining to the possibility of its being unconstitutional reads as follows:

Section 10: This act is predicated upon the belief that the people in adopting article nine, section 16 of the Constitution, authorizing a loan for the payment of compensation to certain persons who served in the military or naval forces of the United States, intended compensation to be paid for the services of the veteran, whether or not they be living when distribution is made. If the courts should hold that the constitutional amendment cannot be thus construed, then compensation shall be payable out of borrowed funds to living veterans—

This is taken to mean that the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania must pass upon the constitutionality of the provision pertaining to beneficiaries of deceased ex-service men. If the court holds that it is constitutional, then unmarried widows of ex-service men or minor children, or parent, will be paid $200.

BAIL FURNISHED FOR CANTON GIRLS

MERCER, Pa., Jan. 9.—Bail in the sum of $500 each was furnished Monday for Rose and Constance Ferruccio of Canton, O. The bail was furnished by Canton people and releases the two girls held on conspiracy charge.

They were committed on the testimony of J. Spino of Greenville who claims he was brought to Mercer by the girls and two gunmen to confess in implications in the Fredonia bank robbery.

The episode was the outgrowth of the capture and sentencing of the two brothers of the girls, Patsy and Angelo, for the robbing of the First National Bank of Fredonia last October. The plan was to make Spino, at whose home Angelo had lived in Greenville, confess to the robbery exonerating Patsy.

Three Boyhood Friends In Chance Meeting Here

Three boyhood friends, born in Westmoreland county, met for the first time in years, yesterday, in a local restaurant. An unusual coincidence brought about their meeting again after a lapse of many years.

C. J. Poole, who is affiliated with the Manufacturers of Light & Heat company, was dining in a local restaurant yesterday. Finding every seat occupied, James B. Hurst, an engineer for the Bell Telephone company, who came in a few minutes later, asked Mr. Poole if he might share the table with him.

The conversation between the two men soon revealed that they were childhood friends. Near the completion of their meal, Dr. C. Lee Mellinger, optometrist for Jack Gerson's store, who just then came in believing the men were ready to leave, walked to the table and noticed Mr. Poole, whom he knew but had not seen in some years.

The three men were born within six miles of each other.

ON OUR NEW COURT HOUSE

Dead Editor:

Let's look upon it as two trains on the same track. First we have a passenger train, loaded to capacity, with taxpayers, which has stopped to take on coal and water, for they have a hard steep grade to pull before they reach their goal.

Next we have the new Court House on a fast freight, coming down the track which has lots of coal and water and does not need to stop. The engineer sees a red block and knows by his train orders that there is an overburdened train head so far he has not needed the warning signal. What will he do?

Crash into the helpless train and knock them off the track in order to get the new Court House in on time, or will he heed the warning signal stop and wait till the over-loaded train has pulled out and over the grade and gotten into the clear on a siding before he pulls on with his precious load.

FIRST CALL—First call for practice for 1934 track team at University of Pennsylvania brought out these stars.

Announce 1934 High Football Schedule

Five Class AA League Games Will Be Played

Clairton, Johnstown And Warren, Ohio, New Teams To Face "Red Hurricane"

Season Will Open September 14 With Braddock High; Drop Toledo, Chaney, Union

New Castle high school "Red Hurricane" football team will face a schedule of eleven games this fall, and from here it looks like one of the most attractive programs ever mapped out by Faculty Manager Ralph H. Bridenbaugh. Three new teams—Clairton, Warren, Ohio, and Johnstown—will appear on the schedule. Five Class AA Conference games will be played by the defending 1933 champions. All in all the announcement of the 1934 schedule will cause quite a furore and interest among the thousands of fans.

Drop Three Teams.
The three schools dropped by Gardner in making out the 1934 program were Toledo Scott, Union high and Chaney of Youngstown. In place of these three teams Gardner and Bridenbaugh selected Clairton, which gives New Castle five league battles, including Washington, New Kensington, Turtle Creek, Charleroi and Clairton. Then there is Warren, O., at Warren, a brand new opponent, and Johnstown high.

Approval of the schedule was given by the New Castle athletic council. The schedules each year are drawn up by Gardner and submitted to the athletic members for their approval and sanction.

Backfield To Go.
Coach Phil Bridenbaugh faces a tough task again this year to formulate a winning eleven. There is possibly only one or two of the substitute halfback men available this coming fall. Kominic, Nickum, Ridley and Lane all will pass on by graduation. It means the formation of a whole new backfield built around "Chuck" James and Stanley Kominic and possibly one or two of the junior high stars of this year.

The line will be almost intact, however, and if "Bridy" can get a backfield clicking, will probably turn out another great team.

Among the old familiar teams appearing on the 1934 card will be Ellwood City in the second game, Sharon on November 10 and Turtle Creek back for a Thanksgiving day game at New Castle.

Very Fine Schedule.
Whether or not there will be any spring training this year is not known, since the W. P. I. A. L. has ruled that the schools are only allowed two practice days, and no games where admission is charged.

If no spring training is indulged in, it will mean a lot of harder work for Bridenbaugh, Klee and Thomas at football camp this fall.

Following is the 1934 football schedule as announced by Gardner:

*Sept. 14—Braddock high at New Castle.
*Sept. 21—Ellwood City at New Castle.
*Sept. 28—Charleroi at New Castle.
Oct. 6—Johnstown at New Castle.
Oct. 13—Washington at Washington.
Oct. 20—Clairton at New Castle.
Oct. 26—Warren, O., at Warren.
Nov. 3—New Kensington at New Castle.

Captain "Bus" Reiber is an improved player this year and the main cog in the Red and Black machine. Joe Kelly has hit his stride and will be a hard man to stop. # Liquor Prices Will Be A Bone Of Contention

Battle To Lower Prices Will Be A Feature Of Next Legislature

By HARRY BERGMAN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—The next session of the state legislature will probably witness a determined battle to lower prices of liquor dispensed in state liquor stores. A fight will also be launched to stock the commonwealth's stores with all brands of whiskeys, wines and gin.

This two-edged campaign to revise details of the newly-inaugurated Pennsylvania liquor control system was announced here by Representatives Arnold M. Blumberg and Clinton A. Sowers, both of Philadelphia.

The two legislators joined in the contention that the reduction of prices would increase the volume of business in the state liquor stores. This, it was pointed out, will swell the revenues for old age pensions, aid for the blind and unemployed relief.

The section of the liquor statute, defining as a crime the transportation of package liquor into Pennsylvania from another state will be tested in the courts with respect to its constitutionality if a movement now under way crystallizes. Rep. Blumberg predicted. If no relief from this provision is found in the courts, steps will be taken to amend the law so as to eliminate this section, the legislators said.

Outright opposition to the state stores was renewed by Representative Fred C. Gartner, also of Philadelphia, who fought against the statute during the special session. He said he will go to the next assembly session prepared to support any movement aimed at the abolition of the state store system.

RAILROAD SHARES
SHOW IMPROVEMENT

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The tobacco shares featured a generally steady stock market today. Trading in the aggregate was light and the foreign turnover was not very much higher than yesterday.

The strength in the tobacco shares was due to the rise in cigarette prices. Liggett & Myers B. ran up 6 points, and American Tobacco B. R. J. Reynolds B. and Lorillard scored lesser gains.

Commodity markets were mixed with grains gaining fractionally while cotton declined about 25 cents a bale.

Railroad shares reflected the sharp improvement in individual loadings reports. Kansas City Southern gained about 3 points in light trading. New York Central, 40 1/2, and Union Pacific were favorites gaining about a point each.

American Telephone gained more than a point and generally strengthening the other utility shares including Consolidated Gas, and Public Service of N. J.

Chrysler and General Motors showed an improved tone today. Chrysler rebounded about a point after yesterday's heavy selling.

Rainey Contends
National Debt
Not Alarming

Speaker Of House Assails Republican National Committee For Criticism

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Declaring the national debt is not alarming, Speaker Rainey of the House today assailed the Republican national committee for its criticism of the administration's course.

"It is sheer nonsense to call attention to the fact that the national debt is going to be $31,000,000,000 at the end of next year," he said. "We spend in less than two years, to win the World War. Forty one billions of dollars. When we have finished this war against depression we are now in what we have spent less than twelve billions."

"Adding together the national debt and the debts of all states makes a total indebtedness of less than $270 per capita. England's per capita indebtedness is $700."

"The cost of winning this war, compared to the results, is insignificant."

MUST REMOVE CAR

Police yesterday told Croton avenue man who was alleged to have used the street as a garage to remove his machine.

What is so rare as a day in June? Answer: a day on which no new name for women's underwear appears in the ads.

Anyway, it is sporting of the law's agents to notify the underworld which gangster they are after this time.

C. E. Price Heads
Tax Justice League

Wayne Township Tax League
Elects Officers—Discusses
Site For High School

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 9.—C. E. Price was chosen to serve as president of the Wayne township tax justice league for a period of one year when members convened in the basement of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church last evening for the regular monthly meeting.

Other officers who were elected to serve during the ensuing year were: Vice presidents, Earl Friday, William Walton and Robert Brown; secretary, Mrs. Neil Hazen and treasurer, Mrs. John Wehman.

Once again the group were unable to come to a decision in regard to the location site for the proposed new high school for which plans have been given state approval. Due to the fact that Ellwood City, Ewing Park and Elipot boro have been taken from Wayne township and made into independent boros, the acreage of the township is now in a U shape, making it difficult to select a centrally located site.

After much discussion a committee which is fairly representative of the various parts of the township was appointed to meet with members of the school board on Saturday afternoon for the purpose of selecting a location. The committee includes: C. E. Boyer, Percy Wright, Benjamin Parker, John Williams, John Wehman, James Guy, Chris Gotzen and Frank Cogley.

The next regular meeting will take place on Monday night, February 5, at the same place.

Blaha To Head Red Cross For Ensuing Year

Julius Blaha Named Chairman Of Lawrence County Chapter For New Term

TREMENDOUS WORK DONE LAST YEAR

Julius Blaha, who has so capably served as chairman of the Lawrence County Chapter for the past few months, following the resignation of Harry Alexander, was named chairman for the coming year at the annual meeting of the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, held in the Chapter headquarters on South Mercer street last evening.

The other officers named were: Mrs. David W. Ritchie and Mrs. David H. Kay, vice chairmen; Norman E. Clark, treasurer; and Mrs. Mary Conti, secretary. Mrs. O. H. P. Green was elected to the executive committee as a new member. These officers were named on recommendation of the nominating committee, consisting of William J. Moffatt, Paul F. Butz and Mrs. C. J. Kirk.

Work Was Great

The reports of the officers and committee chairmen showed a tremendous work has been accomplished by the Red Cross Chapter during the past year, at a very small cost to the citizens of the city and county.

Perhaps the most outstanding work accomplished has been the distribution of 83,269 garments, 1,524 blankets, and 336 comforts, by the garment committee of which Mrs. David H. Kay, is chairman.

July of last year brought to a close the distribution of 140,000 sacks of flour, to supplement the above.

All this was carried on in addition to the regular services of the Chapter, such as the conducting of classes in home hygiene by the Chapter Nurse, Miss Kathryn Hite; first aid classes under Ralph P. Davis, chairman of the first aid committee; instruction in life saving under Jack Herbert, classes in dietetics under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Cosel, the regular nursing service and chapter services to war veterans.

Clothing, and flour distributed by the Red Cross since this service was inaugurated during the preceding year, would probably have a value of close to $75,000, a conservative estimate shows.

Nursing Activities

The report of Miss Kathryn A. Hite, chapter nurse, showed 179 visits during the month of December, 7 meetings attended, 10 interviews in behalf of nursing service, and 7 interviews in connection with general activities.

Her annual report showed 1,726 nursing visits, 29 classroom inspections, in connection with school children's health; 53 meetings attended, 81 interviews in behalf of nursing service, 229 interviews in behalf of general activities, 17 baby clinic sessions attended, at which there were 621 old and 158 new babies registered. Four persons were fitted with glasses, eight were removed to hospitals, and one person had tonsils and adenoids removed.

Miss Hite also attended the National Red Cross conference with Mrs. David H. Kay, at Washington, D. C., and the district conference at Johnstown. Receipts from nursing service for the year totalled $45.25.

During December, 37½ dozen eggs were received and distributed, eight infants comforts were received from Red Cross material, and three chickens and three Christmas trees were received and distributed.

The report of the annual Roll Call conducted during November showed receipts of $696.09, with an additional sum yet yet to be received. This was slightly under last year's total, although some districts gave a considerable amount more than in previous years.

Veterans Aided

Claims service to war veterans and their dependents continued to occupy considerable time on the part of Executive Secretary Orrin Potter, which have been classified as follows:

Applications for hospitalization, 14; applications for pensions, new, 44; claim for government burial allowance, 14; miscellaneous claims, 119; bonus loan applications, 104; affidavits notarized, 364. These latter were furnished free of charge.

In addition, the Chapter Office certified several hundred veterans to the state employment office for preference on state and federal work projects. This was done as convenience to the veteran and the employment service.

Other Activities

Under the supervision of Mr. Davis, a class of 17 Pennsylvania Power Co. employees received instruction in First Aid, and were awarded certificates. Local life savers under the chairmanship of Jack Herbert passed-ed 53 persons in Senior Life Saving tests and 46 boys and girls passed the Junior Life Saving tests.

Twelve students were given instruction in Home dietetics under Mrs. William L. Cosel, chairman of nutrition, nine of whom received certificates. Another class of 14 will complete its instruction the last of this month.

In December, 5,514 garments were distributed to 2,826 persons, although the office was not open the full month. In addition, 608 blankets, 58 comforts and 17 sheets were given out.

Garment Report

Mrs. David H. Kay's annual report on garment distribution shows the following: Garments distributed in city, 52,162; Garments distributed in county, 31,107.

Calls at office, 11,709; Total number aided, 23,120; Total number of workers, 2,997; Total number hours worked, 78,406; Garments received Nat'l. Red Cross, 51,906.

Garments received Needlework Guild, 1,764; Garments made Red Cross cloth, 38,598.

Yard goods received, 74,271; Yard goods on hand, 10,003; Blankets issued, 1,524; Comforts issued, 336.

Layettees given out in year, 157; Total garments in layettes, 3,140; Mrs. Kay was assisted in supervision of the garment distribution by the following: Mrs. O. H. P. Brown, Mrs. Elizabeth Stockman, Mrs. Helen McClaren, Mrs. Laura McGovern, Mrs. Ella McCready, Mrs. Kieth McCready, Mrs. Gertrude Seyfert, Mrs. C. J. Kirk, Mrs. Norman A. Martin, Mrs. Kathryn Wettich, Mrs. George D. Blair, Mrs. Marion McKenzie, Mrs. Isabelle Thomas Kay, Mrs. Edna Burckhart, Mrs. Stella Ritchie, Mrs. Donna Ralph, Mrs. Evelyn Gerould, Mrs. Sylvia Sturdevant, Mrs. Jean Gates and Misses Jean Patterson, Florence Golder, Esther Wallace, Helen Jamison, Margaret Stewart, Alice Troop, Edna Smith and Gloria Broadhurst.

In addition to the above, Miss Hite and Mr. Potter gave considerable time and assistance to the work.

When Your Cough Hangs On, Mix This at Home

Saves Good Money! No Cooking!

If you want the best cough remedy that money can buy, mix it at home. It costs very little, yet it's the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. To make syrup, use 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. It's no trouble at all, and gives you four times as much cough medicine for your money—a real family supply. Keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

It is surprising how quickly this loosens the germ-laden phlegm, soothes and heals the inflamed membrane, clears the air passages, and thus ends a severe cough in a hurry.

Pinex is a compound of Norway Pine, in concentrated form, the most reliable healing agent for severe coughs. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.
